Abstrak Abstract	There is abundance of information about houses for rent through mobile application that provide for user to find system available on the Internet to book such as Trivago, Expedia, Trip Advisor, and Airbnb. For rental house, it is very difficult to find application that provide this recommendation system and usually the owner of the house not advertise their house on internet but only advertise it among the resident. Problem arise when parents worrying about their children who have to find houses for rent on their own. Usually, the student will go out and ask for any available house to rent near their institutions. It will take time for student to find their shelter for the whole semester. To solve this problem, we need a platform that will help both owner and student in this house rental system.

	It also can help student to find the house. The owner can promote their house on the application as it can attract the student. While student can search for any house that available and affordable for rent without having waste their money and time. The system will help find the house rental that will provide information based on criteria for the student to make their decision or choice according to the features requirement
