Abstrak Abstract	Homestay is a place where you can feel the true environment about a certain culture on that place. Unfortunately, homestay gained less popularity compared to the hotel even the homestay's price are more cheap and affordable. In addition, hotel have their own specific website for booking online while homestay don't have any of it. Making hard for tourist in booking process and find the homestay location. The current research was carried out to create a HomeLike website as a platform for tourist in Kampung Pulai, Melaka. The qualitative research was conducted on 59 tourists that were on vacation through probability sampling. Data were collected by valid and reliable questionnaire, consisting of three sections; Demographic, question about homestay and Homelike website.

	Collected data sets were analyzed by SPSS- 25 software. In total, 40.7% of tourists state that the Homelike website will be convenient for them in booking a homestay. 59.3% of respondent find that the Homelike website is user friendly, and also respondents find it easy to get information as this agree by 59.3% of respondents. Majority of tourists strongly agree that Homelike website meets respondent's expectation which is stated by 61% of respondents. The findings indicate that the facilities in booking a homestay need to be improved. This show the importance of Homelike website for tourists. Homestay can gain many benefits from the website such as, payments are easier and faster, works 24 hours per week, plus it have virtual reality view about the homestay, make it special compared to the other booking website.
